

The Wright Stuff

A Word from Bob Wright

I am constantly amazed at the number of inquiries we get from deathly ill cancer patients – or friends/family of theirs – who are looking for “the pill.” Sounds kind of strange, doesn’t it? Here’s what I tell them.

Stop it. Harsh? Not really, and this is the reason why. “The pill” doesn’t exist and, even if it did, it wouldn’t be the end-all cure for their cancer. Lack of “the pill” didn’t cause the cancer to begin and run rampant in their bodies. It was something else – something they really need to understand even if and when this remedy is someday available.

Although we are now international in our scope and reach, most reading this today are Americans. However, this following description will easily flow across the board to people world-wide. We (collectively) have become a fat, lazy society. Very few of us do any exercise at all (no, walking from the couch to the refrigerator does not count), we eat non-foods laden with chemicals, pesticides, herbicides, GMOs, MSG, high fructose corn syrup, aspartame, etc., etc. Folks, how can we possibly be surprised when we get sick? How, indeed!

Call for Testimonies

Here it is, the missing piece of the puzzle that has never really been missing at all. We have just ignored it. What we eat, what we drink, what we put on and in our bodies, the chemicals and poisons that we subject ourselves to – these will be the determining factor as to whether cancer rears its ugly head within us. Hence, if we do get “the pill” – and don’t change what gave us this monster in the first place – guess what? Yep, it’s back again – and more deadly and virulent than ever. Actually, the simple truth is that it never totally left.

Three percent (3%) of people survive cancer beyond five years who have undergone chemotherapy. That’s right. Despite what you hear, only that small percentage actually makes it past that five-year remission rate. You know why these people survive despite the fact that most die? You guessed it. They change the way they live – and that makes the difference.

All of that to say this: Every day we get calls and emails from people wanting to get the new plant extract called PrimaNeuvera. We will go further in depth on this in our April newsletter. What PrimaNeuvera did for cancer sufferers in the late 1960’s is nothing short of stunning. People who have heard about it consider it “the pill.” And, by all definitions, they would probably be right. Unfortunately, so many people who appear to have achieved permanent remission from their cancer, rapidly turn around and go the other way (the cancer is back – once again, it never left) when they return to the good ‘ol lifestyle that prompted and expedited the affliction.

Yes, we still plan to bring forth PrimaNeuvera – with a very heavy dose of education that, if followed, will almost certainly cement the future (cancer-free) of all who chose to do the right thing, not the convenient thing, with their lives.

Welcome to the March issue of our newsletter – what we like to call “reality and truth in print.”

Upcoming Events – A Reminder

Two great events are in the works and are now just around the corner. We advertise these on our website so there is no longer any excuse for missing Bob when he comes to a city near you.

The “Hungry 4 Health Dinner Gala and Silent Auction” is coming to the White House Theater in Branson, Missouri on Friday, April 12th. American Anti-Cancer Institute Regional Ambassador, Lynnette Pate, is hosting the event and touting it as “an evening of organic dining 4 health.” Anyone who knows Lynnette understands that she is passionate about food – the right food. Lynnette and her crew conduct multi-week bike tours throughout the U.S. in an effort to get the word out about organic food and its true purpose – as “fuel for the body.” She also is a powerful voice in our country in the fight against GMO’s (genetically modified organisms). Also a speaker and author, Lynnette is now nationally known as “The Organic Guru” – a title that is well deserved.

Bob will be the featured speaker during this event that runs from 5:30 to 9:30. If you are within a couple hundred miles of Branson in any direction, please plan on attending. We’re counting on you. For tickets please visit www.fuelforthebody.org.

On Saturday, April 20th, Bob will be making a return visit to The Rock Church in San Diego. Charlotte Gerson opened for him during his last event there about a year ago. West Coast Regional Ambassador, Valerie Ward, will be hosting this year’s event and is expecting a large turnout. Please contact Valerie for starting time and to RSVP – reach her at valerie.ward@sdrock.com. The AACI will be opening up a satellite clinic and detoxification center in the San Diego area soon. Come hear the plans and also get a heavy dose of what really works for cancer.

Also make sure to join AACI affiliate and cancer coach, Bill Henderson for his Cancer Free Boot Camp on Saturday and Sunday, March 23-24, 2013 at The American Center for Biological Medicine in Scottsdale, AZ. Register and get more details here. Student pricing and virtual options also available.

Camelot and Guinevere

Maureen Long, founder of Camelot Cancer Care.

Camelot Cancer Care, located in Tulsa, Oklahoma, is undeniably one of the best “anti-cancer” clinics in the United States. Utilizing only natural, non-toxic treatments, this outpatient facility boasts a healing regimen (and results!) for cancer that no allopathic hospital can match.

Our Guinevere, in this case, is none other than the wonderful owner of this establishment, Maureen Long. Not a doctor herself – which is a definite plus in this situation – Maureen has fashioned a treatment and healing protocol that is virtually unequalled by any of the so-called “integrative” centers.

Utilizing DMSO, natural vitamin C, amygdalina (laetrile), essential vitamins and minerals, and proprietary botanicals, Camelot has brought together a therapeutic therapy that is deadly to cancer. How do I know? Let me tell you.

I have visited this facility a number of times and have, once again, done my homework. I have visited with patients undergoing IV drips and gotten their stories, spoken on the phone to many others, and received scores of written testimonies about the efficacy of the treatment plans forwarded at this clinic. So, in other words, the proof comes right from “the horse’s mouth.” That, in my opinion, goes beyond anecdotal evidence. When you hear almost the same healing story – time and time again – it becomes, irrefutably, empirical evidence. Does everyone heal here? Sadly, no, and that story goes across the board at every natural healing location where patients come as their “last resort,” having exhausted their conventional treatment plan of chemo and radiation.

Camelot is affordable and their fees average far less than most clinical locations in the U.S. In addition to the protocol mentioned above, Camelot offers ultraviolet blood irradiation (UVBI), Coley’s toxins, hyperthermia, and Meyer’s cocktail and other treatment plans that have proven to work for many cancer patients.

I recall a past visit where I sat among a group of young ladies (30’s – 40’s) who were all going through their daily infusions. Most of these women were suffering from breast cancer – and all had had breast implants. Any connection? You be the judge. All were delighted to be there and were planning on being well soon. There was a unique atmosphere of hope within that room.

I truly believe that even a small dose of hope goes a long way with those struggling with cancer. And, although I have not followed up individually with these women, I would not be a bit surprised to find out that all were now in remission.

Does this really work? You bet it does. Undoubtedly – as with all treatment protocols and facilities – you will hear of someone who had a bad experience. Folks, please understand that natural protocols should be used from the start, not be a last gasp effort after your immune system has been severely compromised or destroyed. Those people rarely survive no matter what intervention they receive at the last moment.

If I were diagnosed with cancer – at any stage – I would definitely consider going to Camelot Cancer Care. Check it out. Say hi to Maureen for me.

Fermented Foods

“What weakens us the greatest globally, is disease. What most strengthens us, is health.” -Jenevieve Fisher, founder Educate a Cure.

Our digestive system is the foundation of our overall health. When our digestion is poor, our health is poor. In order to maintain or regain health, it is vital to begin by assessing digestion.

Our gut contains about 3.5lbs of good bacteria that produce essential vitamins and hormones, helping to break down protein, fats, carbohydrates, and digest waste. This beneficial bacteria boosts the immune system by producing NATURAL antibiotics that inhibit the growth and activity of pathogenic bacteria.

The bacteria's job is to secrete specialized proteins that stimulate the immune system to produce white blood cells and antibodies; thereby boosting overall immunity. As long as beneficial bacteria flourish, pathogenic bacteria and fungi are prevented from colonizing; also keeping yeast and parasites under control systemically.

The most effective way to keep good bacteria growing in your gut is to eat fermented foods, such as sauerkraut, kimchi, pickles, natto, miso, and tempeh. Fermented foods are foods that have been through a process of lactofermentation in which natural bacteria feed on the sugar and starch in the food creating lactic acid. This process creates beneficial enzymes, B-vitamins, Omega-3 fatty acids, and various strains of probiotics.

Probiotics naturally reduce diarrhea, inflammation, and symptoms of Irritable Bowel Syndrome. Probiotics are also known to boost immunity, and aid in digestion. Individuals who are lactose intolerant benefit greatly from fermented foods, with many regaining their ability to consume dairy.

When purchasing fermented foods, please read the list of ingredients. No salt, sugar, or vinegar should be listed. Buy organic, raw, fermented foods only, and eat a small amount daily, before or with a meal. Strengthen your digestive system through consuming fermented foods, and help avoid illness and disease for life.

Call for Testimonies

For those of you have been blessed to survive cancer – we need your testimony. Of course, there are some – we must admit – who survived despite many rounds of chemotherapy and/or radiation. We are sincerely glad you made it. But you know, most cancer survivors who journeyed through allopathic medicine and managed to get beyond that golden five-year deadline did so despite being inundated with some of the most deadly drugs known to man. Even though some seem to have escaped the “Big C,” the long- term prognosis is not so bright for many. Those who end up living long and having a good quality of life are those who change the way they live.

They don't go back to the soda pop, white bread, and sugar. Gone are the chemical laden packaged goods and fast food (fast food is not really food, folks!). If you haven't heard me say it before, please listen up. Eat nothing that is first passed through a window. Got it?

In the final analysis, real survivors get back to the basics. That includes an alkaline diet, organic raw fruits and vegetables, meat (for some) that is not loaded with hormones and who knows what else, and good water – lots of it.

We are looking for your testimony if you have survived cancer by what we would call natural means. We want to know what you did – and how you did it. What was your initial diagnosis and prognosis? Was a doctor involved and to what degree? Just cover the basics in about a page or two and forward it off to us. With your permission, we may use it in future editions of this newsletter or in a future edition of “Killing Cancer – Not People” or another written work. Let us know if it's O.K. to use your real name – or if you want it changed. We will comply with your wishes.

For those of you who have read the previously mentioned book – we are also requesting immediate feedback on how you liked it. If you thought it was great, please let us know in written form. On the other hand, if you didn't like it, feel free to say so and tell us why (be at least somewhat nice, please!). Obviously, we are looking for good reviews to include in the next edition – if you are so inclined.

Please forward both testimonies and book feedback to our email address: info@americanaci.org. You just might be in the next book!

Speaking of Testimonies.....

You will enjoy the following testimony and expose as it reveals the incredible effectiveness and healing power of oxygen and ozone assisted colonic hydrotherapy while calling out conventional medicine. It also highlights the true medical trend in our country today and why we are all so hopeful regarding the inevitable acceptance of true health freedom.

Please note: The names have been changed to protect the innocent. The guilty parties maintain their identities.

“To Whom It May Concern:

“When will the Washington State Government ever get it right? The Attorney General’s unprecedented attack on D.Y., one of the world’s leading intestinal hydrotherapists, is not only misguided and out of sync with reality, but is just plain wrong! Mr. Y. provides an invaluable service for countless folks who cannot get help from anywhere else in the health-care field.

“I am a practicing dentist and have been in the Medical-Dental Building in downtown Seattle for 42 years. There are 18 floors in this building with 2 wings on each floor. Forty-two years ago when I moved into the building to start my dental practice, the building’s tenants were comprised only of doctors (MDs) and dentists (DDSs). That was 1965. Today, a profile of the building’s tenants tells a very different but important story that cannot be denied. On my wing of the 8th floor alone, one need only to walk down the hallway to note how the health-care marketplace has changed to meet the demands of the health-care consuming public. In order, from the elevator alcove, one comes across the following menu of health-care providers: (1) an acupuncturist, (2) a health-conscious holistic dentist (me), (3) a conventional periodontist, (4) a conventional dentist, (5) an office of massage therapists, (6) a chiropractor, (7) another office of acupuncturists, (8) and a clinic of naturopathic doctors including a reflexologist and an intestinal hydrotherapist. Remember, just 42 years ago there were only doctors and dentists. Obviously, the public is demanding much more from the health-care field today than they did 4 decades ago. For the State of Washington to harass, attack, and generally make life miserable for those in the health-care field who dare to “think outside the box,” when it comes to patient services, is unjustified. And D.Y.’s is a case in point.

“For nearly 20 years I have relied on the excellent and expert services of D., not only to detoxify myself (since as a dentist I am exposed to mercury on a daily basis and mercury is the most toxic element known to man except for plutonium), but also to assist my patients in detoxifying themselves of deadly mercury which had accumulated in their bodies from the mercury dental fillings they had been given by prior dentists who, themselves, refused to “think outside the box.” These hundreds of patients could not have regained their health without D.’s knowledge and services. Please reconsider and then drop your vicious and uncalled for attack on this compassionate, expertly skilled and trained, and highly knowledgeable health-care provider.”

Sincerely,

P.F.G., D.D.S.
