

The Wright Stuff

A Word from Bob Wright

Last month, I touched on PrimaNeuvera™, our proprietary plant extract from South America and all the calls and emails we are getting from people who want it and need it right now. And, I know exactly why.

For those of you who have missed this, I will offer a brief explanation of the extreme interest in this product. About a year and a half ago I did a long interview with ihealthtube.com on several subjects that ended up becoming about 6 different videos. They have all been well received with one already having about 50,000 views. The PrimaNeuvera™ video was picked up by someone off of www.ihealthtube.com and put on YouTube. Well, you can guess what happened from there. Yes, it took off. The phone didn't stop ringing and the mailbox was full. You see, when you show people the possibilities – then prove it – they want to know more, especially when they are suffering.

Precision Intestinal Oxidative Hydrotoning (PIOH)

PrimaNeuvera™ is the trademarked name we have given to this very unusual plant extract that was well tested on cancer patients at a South American hospital in the late 1960's. The results were most certainly unexpected and, no doubt, stunning to both doctors and patients.

What do you call a treatment that alleviates all the pain of cancer in about 48 hours? They called it a miracle. How does one describe the nasty side effect produced by this treatment – full remission? We don't use the "c" word (cure – oops, sorry!) at the AACI – but they sure did. Hence, all the hullabaloo surrounding PrimaNeuvera™.

There is no shortage of cancer patients. More critically, there is no shortage of cancer patients in severe pain – to the bone. Something must be done for these folks, and we are doing it. Our goal was to have a completely re-tested extract into the market place up to a year ago. It simply did not happen. The expense and time involved to accomplish this were much more than we had anticipated. Promised funding did not come through. After all, who wants to fund a cheap, natural plant extract that cannot be patented? There is no money in that!

The good news is that our funding has come through and this natural "pain reliever" (for cancer only at this point) will finally be expedited (not rushed) through final testing and introduced to the public on a limited basis. I know, "on a limited basis" sounds a little sketchy. Here's the reason. Since all of its testing and positive, proven results were produced by intramuscular injections (think flu shot), we must – for efficacy purposes – do this exactly as it was done originally. Sure, we will do further research and testing to see if it works the same way as an encapsulated supplement or a transdermal agent with DMSO. But, initially, we can't do that.

The bad news is that the FDA will consider this an "unapproved drug" as it is delivered through injection. They will not want to have anything to do with it – or let us have anything to do with it either, despite its proven efficacy. Therein lies the dilemma. What to do? Once ready, we plan to introduce it initially in a place (country) that will allow it. We will release location(s) at a later date. Then, we will go about putting the protections in place that will allow us to do it here in the U.S. We have already been working on this.

We are now releasing and opening the website that we built over a year ago – exclusively for this product. You can now go to it at www.primaneuvera.info and read all about it. View the video, as well. We will constantly update the progress on this site and in our monthly newsletter. So, stay tuned.

If you have severe cancer pain right now, we know that DMSO and magnesium chloride oil (Ancient Minerals) help. In addition, if it were me, I would contact Dr. John Lubecki at his clinic in Fair Oaks (Sacramento), California, and ask him about getting some help. He has done wonders for cancer patients for many years now utilizing homeopathic imprinting, lasers, and other forms of detoxification that appear to work amazing results for those afflicted, especially those with severe pain. You can reach the good doctor who, by the way, is a chiropractor, by calling his office at 916-966-7395. Tell him I sent you.

Isn't it amazing? Two of the best doctors I know, Dr. Lubecki and Dr. Bruce West, are chiropractors. They've taken the time to really know the human body and what heals it. And, it's probable that both would tell you that it's not rocket science. ♦

Conventional Treatment and Statistics

The December, 2004, issue of the Journal of Oncology published the true statistics regarding chemotherapeutic treatment for cancer. From that point on, however, allopathic medicine has tried to conceal this report and, simply, does not want to deal with it. Yeah, I guess the truth can be pretty tough when it hurts your business or costs you money.

Here is the gist of that report: In America, 97.1% of all cancer patients who undergo chemotherapy are dead within five years. We really don't need to know any more than that. That statement speaks loudly and, because of the unquestioned and in-depth epidemiological research behind it, cannot be countered or disputed. Any argument should end right there but, unfortunately, does not.

Day after day, oncologists ply their unsuspecting patients with poisonous chemo cocktails that not only don't and can't cure cancer, but end up expediting the demise of the patient and produce a horrific quality of life during the almost certain spiral to death.

For those who don't know, chemotherapy was derived from mustard gas that was used to kill soldiers during the two World Wars. It was discovered around 1946 that it killed some cancer cells within a single patient. Hence, a drug produced from this poison effectively "spawned" the chemo revolution that has become the standard of care in today's cancer treatment. What could they have possibly been thinking?

Since that time, chemotherapy has become more and more deadly to cancer sufferers. It will destroy your digestive tract, give you painful mouth sores, destroy your brain (ever hear of chemo brain?), destroy your heart, etc., etc., etc. Why on earth would anyone go through this? Especially, when the outcome is almost always death? Good questions with hard but definite answers. Folks, it's about power and money. Power over the medical industry and virtually unlimited dollars in the treatments.

It is reported that up to 70% of an oncologist's income is derived from the write-up on chemotherapy drugs. Do you think this doctor is going to prescribe bromelain or graviola? There is no money in these and the doctor would probably be fired for such a recommendation. And, yet, bromelain has been found to be way more effective at killing cancer cells than the chemo agent 5-FU – with all its very nasty side effects. Graviola was discovered to be 10,000 times more effective than the chemo drug adriamycin. Bromelain is a natural product that comes from the stem of the pineapple and is utilized as a pancreatic enzyme. Graviola is simply a tree in South America. Both kill cancer cells en masse.

You won't hear these things from conventional medicine. Instead, you will hear from the American Cancer Society that they are healing up to 70% of cancers and "are the new sponsor of birthdays." It would be a joke if it wasn't so tragic. This is a classic example of how statistics can be juggled or manipulated. The ACS also points out, through their TV commercials, that millions of cured cancer patients are walking the streets of America today because of their efforts. Horse hockey! The majority of those who have survived the cancer therapies of today have had easily healable skin cancers (basal cell and squamous cell carcinomas). Truth be known, more people are dying today of the cancer treatments instead of the cancer. So, did they die of cancer? Good question, huh? Where does that statistic fall?

Here is a case in point. Published by J.D. Heyes, staff writer at NaturalNews.com, on March 27th, 2013, was an interesting article entitled, "Money-hungry cancer centers red-flagged for refusing patients and skewing survival rates." Although rampant in the industry, the article singles out the Cancer Treatment Centers of America (CTCA) as they advertise a higher-than-average survival rate for patients who have been diagnosed with even the most serious forms of cancer. Heyes writes that "According to a recent investigative report from Reuters, CTCA not only turns away scores of patients – including some that had begun treatment at one of the centers but did not respond favorably to that treatment – but the company also cooks its books to artificially inflate survival rates."

Please go to the Natural News website and read the whole story. Also, know that Mike Adams and the crew at Natural News put out one of the best daily newsletters found anywhere. Sign up for it – it's free.

Don't people have a right to know the truth about what their treatments will be and what the real survival rates are? Shouldn't they know the bad effects that accompany allopathic therapies? Every day we see oncologists prescribing more chemotherapy to stage IV cancer patients. Chemotherapy should be outlawed completely – but giving it to a late stage patient with absolutely no possibility of effectivity – should be a felony and the doctor should be put in jail. Let me say this again. I am not anti-doctor – I am anti-bad doctors, greedy doctors, uncaring doctors – you get the point. I know a lot of great doctors and they are my friends.

If 97.1% of all patients receiving chemotherapy are dead within five years (now you know this to be true), why is chemo still allowed? Still the standard of care? Hasn't it been said that the definition of insanity is doing the same thing over and over and expecting different results?

Folks, this decked has been stacked. It is time to pull out the jokers, shuffle the cards, and deal a fair hand to world cancer sufferers. A hand that they can play and don't have to fold. Do you agree? Let us know. ♦

Toxins and Fat Cells

“It’s time to remove the word ‘diet’ from our vocabulary, and replace it with ‘lifestyle’. Diets are temporary. A lifestyle is, well, just that!”

- Jenevieve Fisher

Every new day seems to welcome a new diet, a new form of exercise; both with the promise of a new life. We welcome each New Year with a resolution; mostly to lose weight and exercise more. It is a self-induced roller coaster ride that eventually leaves its passenger confused and nauseated.

As difficult as it is to imagine life without daily diet and exercise struggles, for many Americans, this is possible simply by understanding WHY excess weight becomes an issue to begin with, and simple ways to combat the issues.

It’s important to know that the body’s ability to produce fat cells far outweighs its willingness to release them. This built-in safety mechanism protects the blood from being poisoned.

Close to 90% of the average American’s diet consists of processed foods, heavily laced with toxic chemicals. Our body’s security system; fat cells, are produced in order to surround and absorb the majority of these toxins; holding them until it is safe to release them.

When continued exercise does not increase weight loss, it is typically due to continued consumption of toxins. As long as you are taking in toxins the body will not allow you to burn fat. The body is painfully aware that burning fat cells at a steady rate allows all those toxins and chemicals to be released into the bloodstream. In order to prevent toxic poisoning, the fat cells hold onto their toxins, and you hold onto excess weight.

When you need to burn off fat cells through exercise, be sure to consume plenty of fiber in the form of raw, organic vegetables, in order to provide a healthy vehicle to absorb the toxins put into the blood and carry them off through feces. It is important to consume a large amount daily.

Begin each day by drinking 1 liter of water with half of a cup of fresh lemon juice, and wait 20 minutes prior to consuming anything else. This mixture allows the body to easily release the food it has been holding onto throughout the night. It is a simple, inexpensive form of daily detox.

Stretching for 5 minutes each morning is also important. Give the lymphatic system an opportunity to wake up and remember it has a job to do. Dumping toxins into the blood stream opens the floodgate for illness, so you want the immune system to be functioning properly. Stretching the entire body gives it a boost!

Avoid all refined foods. Use only Real Salt; raw, organic sugar or raw, unfiltered, unprocessed honey. Keep sugar and fructose intake low. The only sugar you consume should come from raw, organic fruits; raw, organic sugar; and raw, unprocessed, unfiltered honey. Please remember, sugar will stimulate appetite, so use it very sparingly.

Begin to listen to your body. It will alarm you when something is wrong, if you choose to listen! This is as simple as eating slowly, exercising 20 to 60 minutes daily at your ability, and sleeping at least 8 to 10 hours each 24 hour period.

Fats, sugars, and salt will slow the fat cells' ability to release their toxic build-up, so know what sources of each are healthy choices before purchasing or consuming these.

Stop eating toxins and chemicals altogether! Read labels, and educate yourself. Know what the words really mean, and when in doubt, look it up. When you stop consuming toxins and chemicals, you will stop producing fat cells.

Simple, really, when you understand WHY the body is producing fat cells. So, now that you know, what do you choose: diet, or lifestyle? ♦

Precision Intestinal Oxidative Hydrotoning (PIOH)

Folks, it's the missing link of natural cancer care and, for all sickness and disease. We miss it because it seems too simple. Some know that they need to detoxify and will go to the health food store and buy a $25-$30 detox kit containing several supplements. It will help a little. Some will use juice fasting which provides critical nutrients to the body and some detoxification. Others feel they must rid the body of candida (and they are right) and utilize foods and supplements to accomplish this. Coffee enemas are great, do dump the liver, and are employed by many cancer sufferers. Colonic hydrotherapy is probably done 20 to 30 different ways and has some use as a detoxification tool. However, none of these comes close to providing the level of effectiveness produced through PIOH. Not remotely close.

As briefly outlined in last month's newsletter, Precision Intestinal Oxidative Hydrotoning is in a class all by itself. And, even then, it's at the front of the class. At the American Anti-Cancer Institute, we truly believe this is the missing link – the third leg of the milking stool – that well could be the decisive factor in healing – or not.

The truth is that if you don't get the decades of "crud" that has been building up within your organs, tissues and cells out – your chance of getting well is diminished. On the other hand, if you do – it becomes very difficult to stay sick. In other words, your body responds, and responds immediately.

Can you imagine 30, 40, 50 years of buildup within your liver of heavy metals, poisons, and other toxic substances and dead cells? Well, if you haven't done a "deep tissue" detox – it's there. And, it is making you sick or keeping you sick.

Precision Intestinal Oxidative Hydrotoning utilizes a special kind of ultra-purified, filtered, and pH balanced water along with atomic oxygen and liver, spleen, and colon massage to facilitate the ultimate purification of the human body. Nothing else compares. To our knowledge, it is the only pure and complete oxidative hydrotoning of its kind in the world. We truly believe that it is a very powerful and effective cancer therapy – all by itself!

Of course, we make no claims nor will we ever tell you that this therapy cures cancer. No one can do that. And, no, it hasn't been reviewed or tested by the FDA. We can actually thank God for that. I do believe, however, (this is Bob talking) that if I had cancer and went through several sessions with our 30+ year specialist, that it could well result in bringing my body back into homeostasis – thus, healing itself. Keep in mind, the only thing that heals the human frame is the immune system. By getting all the “crap” out of your body, you allow this system to grow strong and perform the way it is supposed to. It works. I have seen the results with patients suffering with about everything from chronic Lyme disease to cancer.

I have done this treatment myself – ten times – and I know the process works. It is a reverse flow system (not as bad as that sounds) and one can actually watch through the sophisticated equipment (through a large lighted tube) what comes out; from heavy metals (mercury, cadmium, nickel) to lymph and fungal colonies (candida). I have had in excess of 15 individual “liver flushes” during several of these sessions. It is incredible what the body purges given the right tools. You may need 4-5 one and a half hour treatments or 10-15. It really depends on the level of your body's intoxication. Know that it works and may well be the answer to cancer healing. At least I think so.

Send us an email at info@americanaci.org if you think you might want to do this. You won't be sorry. ♦
